Let me end the suspense here and now by announcing that the gang was made up of boys who had gotten together to decide the marble championship of the Upper Bronx, and that the shiny object at their feet was not the unfucky stone of great price you've been reading about for years, but a legendary agate known to small fry from the Triborough Bridge to Spuyten Duyvil as the Hope Diamond shooter.

NOW IT FIGURES that by thistime you're bustin' to know something about the owner of the Hope Diamond shooter, and how the fabled marble happened to wind up at the feet of a bunch of kids on the day of the big tournament. Well, for you to get the complete picture, it is necessary for me to sketch in some of the background of the shooter—a story which, I might add, in many respects, parallels the history of its super-jinxed

As the fen-everything set recalls it, the Hope Diamond was first brought to the Bronx by a player who originally hailed from Chepa-chet, Rhode Island. After a series of backyard triumphs, he won the right to participate in a semi-final, but the morning of the contest one of the ball-bearings in his skates got stuck and, in the header which followed, his shooting finger was so badly bruised that he had to with-

Well, for most of the contest it looked as if the rich kid was a cinch to win. Not only did the Diamond connect with everything it went after, but it seemed to bex the other shooters that attempted to bit it. Inspired and made confident by its performance, the kid from Riverdale sighted long and carefully, considered the topography of the ground and, when the situation called for extreme measures, even the barn night and during weather; most dairymen follow this practice. Refused hay is generally the only bedding used.

Under such conditions, the udder thighs and flanks of these cows usually become soiled. Long hair greatly, increases the accumulation of barn litter and filth adhering to these parts, making it more difficult to produce clean, milk with low sediment and low bacteria

Clipping is especially necessary where milk is being sold as Grade A fluid consumption. This practice also reduces the time necessary to clean the cow in preparation for the regatta at Biloxi.

Helekol Helps Textile Worker Stay On Job

The great textile mills of the Carolinas are booming again with shifts working day and night to turn out the nation's finest materials, and HADACOL is doing its part to keep folks on the job.

added 87,700 telephones in Mississippi, or three-fourths as many as were in service four years ago.

That's nearly five times the gain in the four prewar years 1936-1939. Likewise, the company expenditures for construction of new facilities in Mississippi, reaching a four-year total of nearly $38,000,000 by the end of 1949, have been several times the 1936-1939 prewar period.

Approximately 185,000 people have applied for telephone service in Mississippi since the war, it was disclosed. "At the end of 1949, only 15,000 of the 185,000 were still waiting for service," State Manager T. E. Harris revealed.

Applications continued heavy right on up to the end of 1949, Mr. Harris disclosed in fact, in 1949 were only slightly below 1948, which was he all time high.

"Our experience is striking evidence of the economic, agricultural and incustrial growth that has taken place and is still occurring throughout Mississippi. These facts prove that the needs and the requests for telephone service that have been expressed to us go much deeper then the 'backlog of war.' If the telephone demand that we have experienced during these four years had been nothing more than backed-up applications from the war, we would have caught up with all ser-vice orders two or three years ago." RECORD YEAR

More than 5,000 rural telephones were added to the approximately 24,-000 in service in Mississippi as 1949 started. In four years, Southern Bell has increased the number of telephones in farm areas from 10,600 at the beginning of 1946 to 29,000 as 1949 closed. This means that in 48 months the number has been mearly

1949 Pas Our Biggest Verin la Rural Felephone Expansion

More farm families in the South got new telephones during 1949 than during any other year in history.

The 57,000 poles we erected to extend rural telephone service was a necord number, too. So was the 105,000 miles of wire placed in service. Setting these new secords required necord expenditures of $26,-000000 for new rural facilities for the year.
